BLOOD STAINED BOAT. INDICATES FOUL PLAY.

A mystery doubtless a murder, has been called to the attention of Kentucky authorities, who have begun an investigation, with little hope of solution.

A floating johnboat was caught Saturday by two fishermen near Fillmore, a few miles north of Wickliffe. The boat was empty except for two small scraps of dainty lingerie, many hair pins and a switch of false hair. On the seat were blood stains and on the side of the boat is a perfect print in blood of the hand of a man, with the middle finger missing. In some mud in the bottom of the boat was an impression left by a woman's shoe with a French heel.

It is believed that the boat may have drifted from some point in Missouri or Illinois along the Mississippi or Ohio rivers. The character of the pieces of clothing seems to indicate that she was very well dressed. One scrap of clean, white filmy lace apparently was part of a woman's under garment. Other pieces of fine, white cloth may have been torn from a woman's waist. The hair, which was matted with blood, is dark auburn. —Cynthiana News.

Prohibition agitators will attack the tobacco industry if union wide prohibition is obtained, according to a speech made before the Wholesale Liquor Dealers' Association. That might be a good thing, too.

Marriage licenses issued in Oldham county last week: Preston McKee Johnson and Clarice Elizabeth Young, H. H. Schroeder and Sadie M. Blanka.

James Earle, of New Orleans, arrived Thursday to spend the summer with his mother, Mrs. Harriet Lewis.

Mrs. Will Waterman returned to St. Louis last week after a visit to Mrs. Fannie Shaw.

MORE GRAVEL ROADS.

C. G. McMurry, one of Fulton county's very best farmers, told us Saturday that the folks residing along the public road from Poplar Grove church and a mile and a half east, with the exception of a small gap, had subscribed enough money to bear one half the cost of graveling this road—the State to pay the other half from the State road fund, to which this county is entitled. It begins to look as though the public-spirited, generous, progressive farmers of the county are not going to wait for the county to get in the gravel roads game. With the farmers and State bearing the cost of graveling the public roads, why should anybody worry? The farmers along the State Road are going to gravel four miles or more on the same basis and any other section of the county can avail itself of the same proposition.

Let the good work go on. It is the beginning of modern highway in Fulton county.

"FOR PERSONAL USE."

The Supreme Court of the United States decided in the case appealed from Whitley county, Kentucky, that the Welch-Kenyon law has no application in the interstate shipment of whiskey into "dry" territory for personal use. The constitutionality of the act was not passed upon. The Adams Express Company, the court held, was within its rights in transporting whiskey to a "dry" locality for personal use.

Mrs. Gertrude Henry and children returned to New Madrid Saturday after a visit to E. E. Reeves and family. They were accompanied home by Miss Elizabeth Reeves.

N. R. Holcombe returned home Tuesday after a visit to his brothers, T. A. Holcombe, of Greenville, Miss., and W. E. Holcombe, of Memphis.

BELIEVES IN GARDNER.

In advocating the election of Judge Bunk Gardner for election to the office of circuit judge we do so because we firmly believe he will make the district a judge of which it will be proud. We believe he is clean, progressive and abundantly able to conduct the office so thoroughly satisfactory that the people will demand his reelection at the next election. A man who is fair to all and possessed of a courage and an ambition that stamps him as unequivocally the man for the place. We are for Judge Gardner for circuit judge because he has been a success in his profession and because he has the generous endorsement of the people of his home town, where he was born and reared, and where for a half score of years or more he has continuously held the same office. —Cynthiana News, Adv.

Arrangements are in progress for a big 4th of July celebration at Bardwell this year and as the 4th happens to fall on Sunday, it is the purpose of the promoters of the event to have the celebration on the 3rd. Arlington will also celebrate the same day.

J. C. Ellison spent a part of last week at Dawson Springs, attending a convention of the Ky. Pharmaceutical Ass'n., of which he is a member. The visitors, several hundred in number, had a big time and were royally entertained.

A. J. Lane, of Cairo, and Mr. Koontz, of Mound City, were here last Thursday. These gentlemen are newspaper men and were enjoying the excursion from Cairo to Hickman on the Str. Home Smith.

CORN GROWING IN SOUTH.

Fairfax Harrison, president of the Southern Railway, discussing the Boys' Corn Club work of 1914 is quoted as saying:

"As in each former year since the inauguration of the Boys' Corn Clubs the championship has gone to the South, having been won by Carl Graves, at Soso, Mississippi, with the production of 202 bushels of corn on a single acre at the remarkably low cost of 14.5 cents per bushel. The highest record made by any boy outside of the South was by a Pennsylvania boy, who made 148 bushels at a cost of 26.7 cents per bushel. This record was exceeded by ten of the first and second prize-winning boys in the South. The average yield per acre made by winners of the first and second prizes in the States of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Kentucky and Tennessee was 159.26 bushels, as compared with an average of 104.22 by the prize winners in the Northern, Central and Western States. Taken into consideration with the records of previous years, these figures show that, with the adoption of proper cultural methods, the South can be made the greatest corn-producing section of the United States."

There is no reason to doubt that Mr. Harrison is altogether right in his conclusions. The South is not growing enough corn at the present time to supply the wants of its population. The work of the Corn Clubs shows clearly that the South has all the essentials for growing bigger and better crops of this staple cereal. Its farmers ought to cut out a part of their enormous cotton acreage and put the ground in corn. Every Southern State at least ought to grow a sufficient quantity to meet the demands of its own population.

A girl doesn't mind wearing a V neck and a see-everything skirt. But she wouldn't think of exposing her ears for anything.

PREACHER HUGGED WOMAN.

Murphysboro, Ill., June 12.—Charges that he pinched the arms and legs of a woman member of his congregation and that he hugged another woman of the church flock, has led Rev. Chas. Day, pastor of the First Lutheran church, of this city, to announce that he will resign.

One of the charges was preferred by Mrs. Peter F. Pelzer, a member of the church several weeks ago, following a hay ride she and Mr. Day attended. She alleged that the minister pinched her arms and legs and made advances to her. No definite action on the part of the church officials resulted from this charge.

When Miss Maggie Betz several days ago told women friends that Mr. Day had "handled" her at her country home when calling, an investigation was immediately started.

Dr. Dunlap, at the head of a committee, called on Miss Betz at her home. She told them Mr. Day had hugged her when they were looking at a portrait.

Day is married and has a son.

HICKMANITES WIN IN FULTON SHOOT.

Several of the Hickman bunch attended the Fulton White Flyer Gun Club shoot last Thursday afternoon, and "brought home the bacon."

Among the winners from here we noticed F. M. Case, electric iron; S. L. Dodds, ton coal; Ira Green, box cigars; County Atty. J. W. Roney, half ton coal. The coal, being a little unhandy to carry home, was donated to the Woman's Missionary Society of the Baptist church of Fulton.

THEY READ THEM.

A Montgomery City merchant advertised free ice cream at his place of business and more than seven hundred persons were served with the frozen delicacy. The merchant disclaimed any philanthropic motive and said the free ice cream was merely a test to learn how many persons were reading his advertisements. —St. Joseph Observer.

A rain and wind storm struck Hickman Saturday afternoon. Besides a heavy down-pour, the wind blew down several shade trees and some electric and telephone wires. The Str. Georgia Lee, on her down trip, was caught in the bend above town and turned completely around. No damage was done to the boat, although her passengers were given a good scare.

Postmaster B. W. Scott and party motored over from Bradford, Tenn., and spent Sunday with relatives and friends in Hickman. B. W. is an old Hickman boy and his friends here will be glad to know that he is doing well in his new home.

Mrs. Fannie Shaw and H. D. Robinson returned last week from a visit with relatives in St. Louis.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Parham left last week for Cairo to visit relatives.

"A SAFE PLACE TO TRADE"

"KING OF EXETER" IS TAMALED PEDDLER.

From State Senator-elect to a hat tamale peddler is the tragic career in seven years of a Cairo man.

E. S. Cook was born and raised in Cairo. He attended school with well known and prominent Cairoites, twenty-seven years ago Cook left here for Boston, and after mastering the trade of electrician, secured employment with the Postal Telegraph company.

Soon his proficiency attracted the attention of officials of the company who put him in charge of the eastern test station at Exeter, N. H. As three years passed many branch offices were placed under his supervision and he became general manager of the district. The company built for him a beautiful home in the Rhode Island village, made him a present of carriage and horses, and he became widely known as the King of Exeter.

In casting around for a popular man to break the strong Republican political machine, the Democrats went to him with their proposals, which he at first declined. Popular acclamation, however, induced him to change his mind and before he could fully realize the consequence of his acceptance, he was in the midst of one of the most bitter political wars ever waged in the smallest State in the United States.

The election of 1908 will be long remembered in the little Rhode Island town. The "King of Exeter" defeated his Republican opponent by a majority of 2 votes. The Socialist candidate scarcely made a showing. When the count was completed, telegrams of congratulation poured in from all over the country to the man who broke the back of the machine. But the organization was too powerful, and at a contest of the ballots three votes polled by the Democrats were thrown out, this defeating Cook.

The "King" returned to his work with much less spirit and soon his health began to fail. After a few years he was forced to seek recuperation in the west. A few weeks ago, having recovered his normal condition, but minus ambition, he returned to his boyhood home to visit his brother and aged mother.

Being unable to find employment at his trade, he took the first opportunity offered, and is now selling hot tamales in an uptown saloon. The former "King of Exeter" is a modest man and with reluctance admitted his name was better known in Rhode Island than that of the president of the United States. He declares that some day he may return to the east, but that for the present he will content himself with selling his hot tamales in order to be near his mother, who is nearing her eightieth milestone.

THE OLD HOME TOWN.

Do you remember the lazy fellow who used to sit around in the implement store and the barber-shop in the old home town and predict the failure of every boy who tried to poke his nose above the community herd?

Up in the village of Salem they used to crack lots of jokes at the expense of a lank and ungainly young fellow who clerked in the village grocery, poled flat boats down the river and split rails for a living. They called him Abe in those days. He became president of United States and thousands from far off places on the earth have visited his tomb at Springfield to do him and his memory honor.

They used to make fun of Bill McAdoo back in the old home town. Of course you have heard of Bill. He dug a tunnel under the Hudson river and is secretary of the treasury now.

But there are a lot of old lads back in the old home town who sort of hope that Bill will fall over sometime yet and land in the consomme.

Years ago there was a bunch of smart guys in a city not far away who used to laugh openly at a kid named Bryan who had no idea that he was an orator and could make a good speech.

And Orville Wright was a regular joke in his home town.

It is the old home town itself that in the joke.—Ex.

FULTON PAPER SOLD.

City Editor Roney of the Wireless, a new Fulton publication, tells us that the Wireless has taken over the Fulton Weekly News, a paper owned and published by Rev. Howell, and established about two years ago by John Smith. This is about the sixth paper that has "gone the way of all flesh" in the past ten years.

Sen. Will A. Frost, of Wingo, was here Saturday looking after his candidacy for re-election to the office of State Senator. If all reports are true, Senator Frost is fighting single handed and alone two powerful moneyed interests of the State known as the book and whiskey trusts. This is another proof that he was a bona fide representative of the people. Any old time liquor and trust folks make an attempt to unseat an official, just put it down, he has interfered with their policy of running State affairs to suit themselves. It is a matter of record that Sen. Frost was instrumental in saving the people of the State a large amount on school books by certain legislation, though bitterly fought by the "interests." What he, a leader of the local option forces, did to the whiskey ring is still fresh in the minds of everyone who kept up with that notorious campaign at the capital. Of course, the liquor crowd is opposed to Frost and may be expected to try to knock the filling out of him by every dishonorable and unscrupulous method available. Then a lot of pennut politicians went up in the air when Frost framed and passed an act to prevent steals by sheriffs in tax collecting. The honest sheriff doesn't care—the dishonest ones can collect only the taxes due. This law will save the taxpayers thousands of dollars, and is a good one. These are only a few of the reasons why the powers that he will try to put the kibosh on Senator Frost. Our good friend Jim Lemon, of the Mayfield Messenger, knows the half has not been told. Yea, verily, the emissaries of the Philistines, clad in purple and fine linen and bearing gifts have been abroad in the land of the Pennyrile. They maketh a great gun-shoe noise as a mighty wind or tinkling cymbals of brass, and exhorteth the multitude to oppose Frost, who drinketh not with them in the palaces of the Pharoh nor yet accepteth their offers of much fine gold. Crown him not again, lest the grass of the field and the hittle dryeth up and wasteth away, and honest grafters and trusts falleth to decay and he no more forever in Kentucky.

Tyler and Sassafra Ridge school houses are being much improved by painting this week.

Pupils are asked not to buy new books before the schools open as they are quite apt to make errors. On the first day of school the teachers will give the grades the list of books needed.

The average daily attendance in the schools of this county for the present school year was as follows:

At a negro barbecue near Montjoy church on Bowden Ridge in the lower end of this county, a negro named Webster objected to Joe Montjoy's attention to a dusky damsel and proceeded to fill Joe full of lead, using a shotgun for the purpose. Joe retaliated by taking a shot at his assailant which took effect in his face. Deputy Sheriff Howell King brought Webster to jail where he now languishes and at last reports Montjoy was not expected to live. — East Prairie Eagle.

Oh The Joy of Home Frozen

Goodies—And It Costs So Little, Too

Why not have the delicious treat of home-frozen ice cream, ices and sherbets, oftener? Such delicacies are most wholesome and tempting when made at home and the cost is really trifling. Nothing nicer for desserts—nothing so delightful, cooling and healthful as a summer treat for the family—and it costs only a few cents, to make it.

Don't Skimp—Use Plenty of Pure

ICE!

Just think, even if you use all the ice possible, the cost can't amount to VERY much. Ice is really cheap, compared with other things—in fact, it's the cheapest of them all and the most essential to health and comfort. Use plenty of ice—freeze the cream well—it will taste better and keep longer.

THE MIGHTY COURT OF THE UNIVERSE, THE HUB OF THE ARCHITECTURAL SCHEME AT THE PANAMA-PACIFIC INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION

All visitors to the Panama-Pacific International Exposition at San Francisco at some time during their stay at the exposition make their pilgrimage through the Court of the Universe. This is the largest court on the grounds and is the central radiating unit of the architectural and ground plans. Noble sculptured groups embellish it, the two Homeric groups—the Nations of the East and the Nations of the West—surmounting the giant arches at the east and west portals. By night the beauty of the court is enhanced by the flood lighting effects.

This is the heritage he left."

COTTAGE CHEESE FINE.

A wholesome and nutritious article of food that can be made from sour skimmed milk or butter milk is known as cottage cheese, schmuckkase, soft cheese, etc. The method of manufacture is to gently heat the soured milk to 85 to 125 degrees and to then draw off the whey through a cloth strainer with the hands or with a pestle to make it granular. Salt is added, and the flavon may be improved by the addition of cream or butter; however, it is best to sell the cheese without the cream and to permit the consumer to add cream. Caraway seed and nutmeg is added by some dairymen.

OLD JOHN BROWN.

As very few of our readers know very little about Old John Brown, as he was called, we will proceed to give a short account of him.

He was born in Maryland in 1800 and died in 1859 at the age of 59 years. He removed to Kansas in 1855 in order to oppose the further extension of slavery. He gained a victory over an invading party from Missouri at Osawatomie in August 1856. He seized the arsenal at Harper's Ferry in October 1859, for the purpose of arming the negroes for an insurrection against the whites who believed in slavery.

Great excitement prevailed in that vicinity and the people were wrought up to a high pitch, over what they called the impudence of Old John Brown.

Two days after he brought on this insurrection he was captured and afterwards tried by the commonwealth of Virginia.

He was tried at Charleston, West Virginia, and on November 2, 1859, he made his last speech before the court house which tried him, in his own behalf. He was found guilty and his execution took place on December 2, 1859.

During the night before his execution a company of soldiers with their arms and accoutrements slept in the court room where Brown had been tried, and it is a curious fact that one of these soldiers was no less a personage than John Wilkes Booth.

John Brown was a tall lank man, sallow complexion, weight about 190 pounds and was not afraid of anybody or anything. At the time of his execution he certainly was the most unpopular man in the United States.

He always contended and so he did in his last speech before the court, that his only object was to free the slaves. In his speech he said it was never his intention to murder, commit treason, destroy property or excite slaves to a rebellion or bring about an insurrection.

The trial and execution of Old John Brown created great excitement and much comment all over the country and he together with the work of Wm. Lloyd Garrison, in the Liberator, which was published in 1831 and at the beginning of the publication of this together with the great efforts of Old John Brown, the abolition society of Boston was founded in 1832.

Although we have much politics in these days yet for many years we have not had the excitement that was produced by the efforts of John Brown to free the negroes, which his arrest, his trial and his execution caused.

His execution as we have before stated, took place in Charleston, West Va., on December 2, 1859, and a monument now rests over his grave at Harper's Ferry.

Thousands of people while passing on the train stop at this point to look at the monument and inscription that was placed over the grave of Old John Brown.

OVERPRODUCTION IN INTENSIVE FARMING

A Convenient Rack for Hauling Fodder.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

In order to make the small farm profitable, it is, in most cases, necessary for the farmer to devote himself to some intensive type of agriculture such as truck farming, poultry, fruit growing, intensive dairying, etc. Before any of these can be successful, the market demand and transportation facilities must be adequate. When perishable products are grown far from their markets, not only are the freight and commission charges apt to be prohibitive, but in the period between the shipping of the commodity and its sale on the market, prices which were attractive at time of shipment may have dropped with results disastrous to the grower.

Intensive crops such as garden truck, fruit, etc., have a much wider range and more rapid fluctuation of prices than staples like wheat or corn. A comparatively small acreage is sufficient to supply the demand for the intensive crops. It is very easy therefore to increase this acreage to a point where the market is flooded and prices drop immediately. Taking the country as a whole, vegetables, including potatoes, occupy only two and one-half per cent of the crop area, and this acreage, under present conditions, furnishes about all that the market can absorb at a price that will be profitable to the grower.

If the farmer is ill-advised enough to undertake the production of garden truck at a time when the supply is greater than the available markets require, it is a comparatively easy matter for him to correct his mistake. In the case of fruit, however, it takes longer to produce a crop, and a similar mistake is therefore likely to be done at any time until it is too late to permit the crop to mature before frost. The land should be plowed in the spring for surface planting and then allowed to lie rough until about seedling time when it should be smoothed with a drag harrow or disk. For farrow planting spring plowing is not necessary. A later like those made for planting corn can be used on stubble or cotton land without previous preparation. If the farmer does not have a later the furrow can be laid out with a plow and the seed planted with a one-horse drill after the manner of planting cotton or corn. Planting in furrows is recommended for western Texas or Oklahoma, and flat or ridge planting for all the region east of this where the rainfall is more abundant. When planted in rows 36 to 44 inches apart 4 to 6 pounds of seed to an acre are sufficient. Sorghum seed is usually cheap, but the farmer is urged to buy only standard varieties from a reliable dealer.

When planting in rows, thorough cultivation is as essential to the sorghum as to corn. This method produces larger yields and the crop is better prepared to withstand drought than if broadcast or drilled. Where the latter method is followed, however, the practice is the same as for oats or any other small-grain crop. Cowpeas or soy beans are also frequently mixed with sorghum to improve the quality of the hay. This is especially frequent on dairy farms. Three parts of cowpeas or soy beans to one of sorghum seed is the usual proportion. From 60 to 90 pounds of the seed mixture is required to the acre.

As pasture, sorghum is safe only after it has become fully matured; more serious. The acreage devoted to fruit is even smaller—one and three-fourths per cent of the country's crop area—than that devoted to vegetables. Until there is increased consumption either in this or other countries accessible to our growers overproduction can easily occur.

A Good Bunch of Feeders.

Sorghum for Southern Live Stock.
Every southern farmer who is producing beef or milk should grow the sweet sorghum. These are not recommended as money crops, but as a fodder they are practically equal in value to corn while as a rule better yields can be obtained. They should be consumed for the most part on the farm where they are grown or at least at points within hauling distance.

The sorghums are particularly useful as silage, which is essential to the live stock owner and particularly to the dairy farmer. The various southern states report yields of from 16 to 20 tons of sorghum silage per acre, which is an average of from 2 to 4 tons more than the yields of corn, while the relative value pound for pound of the two feeds has been found to be much the same by experiments conducted at the Kansas agricultural experiment station. In fact for beef cattle these tests showed that sweet sorghum silage was, if anything, superior to corn silage. The sorghum intended for silage, however, should not be harvested before they are fully matured. If cut when the seed is hard there will be no trouble from spoiling or from excessive acidity. From 20 to 30 pounds per day is considered a full feed, but this should always be supplemented with 12 to 15 pounds of dry roughage and some concentrate like corn or cottonseed meal. Cottonseed meal combines particularly well with sorghum silage, and since this meal is always abundant in the South, this is another reason for growing the sorghum.

For forage in the South the sweet sorghums will be found better than the grain sorghums, such as milo, kafir and feterita, which suffer from the attacks of the sorghum midge. Of the various varieties the Sumac, Orange, Amber, Goose-neck and Honey are probably to be preferred. The Amber and Orange are the earlier kinds and two cuttings can often be obtained from them. All of these varieties respond excellently to good soil, but they succeed on many different types; a rich, loose, well-drained clay loam soil is the best. A water-logged clay or extremely sandy soil will not afford profitable returns. Fertilizers strong in nitrate applied to poor soils will produce good results and the free use of barnyard manure is always advisable.

Sorghums may be planted as soon as the ground becomes warm in the spring, usually from one to two weeks later than Indian corn. When the season is favorable, the planting may be that is, after the seed has become hard. Before this time, especially after a period of drought, a poison sometimes forms which is fatal to stock. Where there are two growths the second is considered more dangerous than the first, and any stock allowed to pasture on it should be carefully watched.

In feeding the hay, from 18 to 25 pounds a day will be found sufficient for milk cows and work horses. If it is accompanied by the ordinary amount of grain. Beef cattle, however, should be fed all that they will eat clean. Stock cattle and horses can be carried through the winter on a liberal quantity of sorghum without any grain.

INCREASING SOIL FERTILITY

Farmer Can Secure More Cotton by Planting on Area Where Leguminous Crops Have Grown.

Inasmuch as green crops suitable for hog cholera can be maintained in the South practically every month in the year, it is possible for the southern farmer to make more money than the northern farmer upon hog-producing operations, and the profits made are in proportion to the amount of green food used. But in addition to making ready money on the hogs themselves the farmer who grows leguminous crops and grazes them off with hogs has a fertilizer factory on his own farm. In a test at the Arkansas station, hogs grazed upon areas of peanuts, clovers and soy beans. The following two years the land was planted in cotton, and data were collected to determine what effect this grazing might have upon the cotton yield.

The effect was remarkable; for instance, in the case of soy beans and peanuts the increased yield of cotton was 44.6 and 61.1 per cent, respectively. The effects of growing these crops and grazing them off does not stop with the cotton grown the year immediately following the grazing. The data show that the increase over the corn lot was still considerable in the second year. It is therefore apparent that the farmer can get more cotton when it is planted on an area where hogs have grazed or where peanuts, soy beans, or other legumes have been grown.

Cottonseed Meal as Protein.

If some mill feed must be purchased as a source of protein, cottonseed meal is at present the cheapest source. A still better solution of the protein question is to grow it in alfalfa or clover hay.

Duck Raising.

Ducks are very easily raised and good layers or good market fowls will thrive in any climate, with a dry shed for shelter.

BEHIND the humor in this drawing we can read a little MORAL. Many folks are as SOFT as the snow man when the SUN of PROSPERITY beams down on them. They hold up a thin umbrella of GOOD INTENTIONS and cry: "See; we are playing safe. We're not spending more than we make." But the cloud SUDDENLY hides the sun. They are left a shapeless, melted mass. Then they are SORRY they didn't contract a steady, thorough BANKING HABIT.

TRY IT! SUBSTITUTE FOR NASTY CALOMEL

Starts Your Liver Without Making You Sick And Can Not Salvate.

Every druggist in town—your druggist and everybody's druggist has noticed a great falling off in the sale of calomel. They all give the same reason. Dodson's Liver Tone is taking its place.

"Calomel is dangerous and people know it, while Dodson's Liver Tone is perfectly safe and gives better results," said a prominent local druggist. Dodson's Liver Tone is personally guaranteed by every druggist who sells it. A large bottle costs 50 cents, and if it fails to give easy relief in every case of liver sluggishness and constipation, you have only to ask for your money back.

Dodson's Liver Tone is a pleasant-tasting, purely vegetable remedy, harmless to both children and adults. Take a spoonful at night and wake up feeling fine; no biliousness, sick headaches, acid stomach or constipated bowels. It doesn't gripe or cause inconvenience all the next day like violent calomel. Take a dose of calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak, sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day's work! Take Dodson's Liver Tone instead and feel fine, full of vigor and ambition.

FIRST COTTON BLOSSOM.

TO DRILL FOR OIL NEAR REelfoot LAKE.

J. W. Scott, who has been making arrangements for drilling for oil near Reelfoot Lake, has secured leases on a large amount of land and the company he represents is now ready to begin active operations. The machinery has been purchased and is now on its way to this place where it will be unloaded and hauled out to the places where the wells will be drilled. Mr. Denuison, of New York, connected with the same company, an expert on oil wells, arrived here Friday and is now on the field.

We are informed that these men, who are experts in the oil business seem to be sure that oil, in paying quantities, will be found here.

Five wells will be drilled, the drilling of each will cost approximately $15,000. The depth of each will be at least 1500 feet.—Ohio Enterprise.

A Doctor's Prescription for Cough An Effective Cough Treatment.

One-fourth to one teaspoonful of Dr. King's New Discovery, taken as needed, will soothe and check Coughs, Colds and the more dangerous Bronchial and Lung Ailments. You can't afford to take the risk of serious illness, when so cheap and simple a remedy as Dr. King's New Discovery is obtainable. Go to your druggist today, get a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery, start the treatment at once. You will be gratified for the relief and cure obtained. (Advt.)

OUR FUTURE CITIZENS.

Twenty or thirty years hence the boys who now inhabit our homes and pass as little fellows up on our streets will be the business men of Hickman, our men of affairs and of fame. Fleeting are the years which transform our boys into mature manhood. How important it is, therefore, that these boys and young men be guided aright into the responsible citizenship which confronts them—that they be not "led into temptation" and that evil influences, so far as possible, be ward offed away from them. The environments of every boy should be made as helpful and pleasant as possible.

Heart to Heart Talks

By CHARLES N. LURIE

HERE'S ANOTHER PHILIP NOLAN.

You remember Philip Nolan, the "Man Without a Country"—how he, a young army officer, cursed his country, the United States, and said that he wanted never to hear of it again; how he was condemned by court martial to be taken aboard a United States man-of-war and to cruise about until the end of his days, never hearing mention of his native country until he lay on his deathbed. "He loved his country no more than I love this," he wanted placed on his tombstone, "but no man deserved less at her hands."

Well—
We have among us another Philip Nolan. This individual appeared the other day at the office of the chief immigration examiner in Chicago, stated that he was a native born American citizen, of American parentage, and wanted to "resign."

"Why do you desire to resign?" asked the examiner.
"Because there is too much religion and too little fighting spirit in this country, and what I want is to be scratched off," replied the man, who is described in the dispatches as "the lone halibut, wild eyed applicant for the distinction of becoming a 'man without a country.'"

There's something amusing about this tale, but there's also food for reflection in it.
When the rest of the world is hurrying back to barbarism by the gunpowder route and we Americans are shocked beyond expression by tales of wholesale killing and mauling and burning, here's an American who is disgusted because we do not follow the same road.

Too little fighting spirit, when Europe lies bleeding, struck down by that same fighting spirit! Let us thank heaven that we have no "fighting spirit" to drag us into the war.

And too much religion!
Strange complaint in this day and generation, when the clergyman, best fitted to judge of such matters, complains of empty pews and half-filled churches. Where did this man get the idea that we have too much religion?

With all due allowance for the uncomfortable ways into which the normal human mind may wander, it is hard to resist the conclusion that this candidate for expatriation is not sane.

Surely—
In the present state of the world American citizenship is a precious jewel, to be cherished and guarded with all care and not thrown away because America has "too little fighting spirit and too much religion."

L. O. O. M. NOTICE.

Hickman Lodge No. 1294, Loyal Order of Moose, will meet next Tuesday night at their new club rooms at 7:30 p. m. All members are requested to attend each meeting.—A. M. Shaw, Dictator, C. M. Reynolds, Sec'y.

The following representatives of Hickman Royal Arch Chapter attended at Fulton Monday afternoon and night the annual inspection of chapters of this judicial district: Dr. Lon Naylor, Dr. I. M. Hubbard, Rev. R. M. Walker, C. H. Moore, W. F. Montgomery, J. M. Ezell, Farris Naifeh and W. C. Speer. At six o'clock the good ladies of the Eastern Star served refreshments for the visitors in the Mañon hall dining room, and the evening was devoted to conferring the Royal Arch degrees on five candidates. Singular enough, a father and two sons were in one team. Past Grand Secretary Fred Aker, of Paducah, acted as inspector on this occasion. Of the six chapters represented, Hickman lead in work turned out in the past year and was best financially off of any in the district.

ONE NEGRO KILLED AND ANOTHER WOUNDED.

Elmer Neeley, a negro, age about 22, is dead, and Minnie Bowdley, negroess, shot through the leg above the knee, and one negro gone and three arrested is the result of a 2 o'clock Sunday morning shooting scrape in the lower bottom, on the Al Paris place, now owned by J. J. C. Bondurant.

The shooting took place at the cabin of Lew Martin, who works for Joe Terrell.

The reports of the tragedy are conflicting and varied. One is that a number of negroes were engaged in the battle and some had been drinking.

From what we are able to gather a "church festival" had been held at a nearby church. After the festival, a party of negroes started for Lew Martin's cabin to get some barbecued meat. Bowdley (husband of the woman shot in the leg) is said to have been one of the party, but was somewhat in advance of the others. It is supposed that he did the shooting and is thought to have caught his wife and Neeley in a compromising position in the Martin cabin. The wounds sustained by Neeley, it is said, would indicate that he was in a certain position, as two shots took effect in his stern, one of which came out below the navel, perforating the intestines, and another in the lower extreme of the torso. The range of the bullet wounding the woman also coincides with such an hypothesis. But these are not known to be the facts at all.

Officers Huddleston and Naylor went to the scene of the shooting and arrested three of the party—Bud Whitelaw, Will Jones and Lew Martin. These negroes claim they had no part in the shooting. Bowdley made his escape and has not been apprehended. Dr. H. E. Prather was called to attend the injured. He found Elmer mortally wounded, with one chance in a thousand to save his life by an operation. This operation was performed Sunday by Drs. Prather, Naylor and Prather Martin. About six inches of one of the small intestines was taken out. This piece had six large bullet holes in it, and the negro's only chance of living was that the operation would prove successful. Fate was against him, and he died about 8 o'clock Monday evening.

The victim was a son of Bob Neeley, one of the best old negroes in the county. His efforts to raise his children right have proven in vain. He has one son in the penitentiary and the dead one has given him lots of trouble.

Elmer was wanted in Hickman on charge of assaulting a white man several weeks ago, but he had remained away from town since the fight. "Old Uncle Bob" has a family of thirteen children.

The Bowdley negro worked for Joe Terrell.

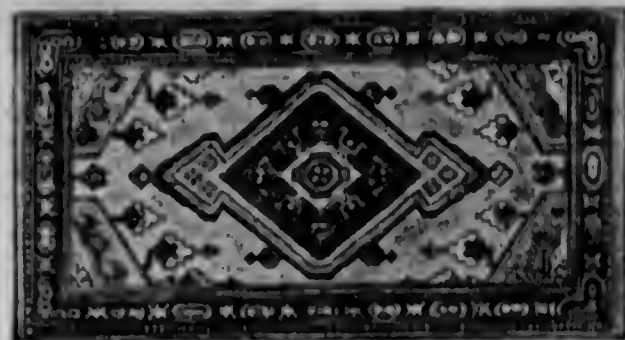

Whether the negroes mixed up in this fracas were drinking or not cannot be positively stated. A big lot of empty beer bottles adjacent to the scene were the strongest kind of mute evidence that a drinkfest had been pulled off, according to one of the physicians.

With this week's issue, the Courier starts on its 50th year and the present management on its 10th year. Of course, these anniversaries cut no ice; every day is an anniversary date for some event of more importance than the establishment of a newspaper. But, as we pass the mile posts, we cannot help thinking—and sadly—for the moment, how swiftly time flies. It seems but yesterday that we took over the Hickman Newspaper Company's interests in the Courier—but, alas, we are nine years older now. We've seen many changes in the town in that time—the most pathetic of which, is the large number of friends and citizens who have crossed over the Great Divide in this brief span. Then, too, there are the "little folks," who were mere children nine years ago, that are now grown up; men and women of affairs, who have taken their place in the ranks of the great onward march toward life's successes and failures. There have been a general mixture of joys and sorrows—success and failure—ups and downs—in which all of us have shared more or less. If a few years can bring such varied and marked changes, think of the change of scenes since that June day in 1859 when the Courier was first read. The Courier is a link between two generations widely separated by time and progress. Only a few white-haired, aged citizens are with us now who read Vol. I, No. 1 of the Courier. But they, like the brown-tinted, tattered files of the Courier of a half century ago, possess memories rich in the knowledge of by-gone days. Wonder how many of us will be living a half century hence to say that we read the Courier in 1915!

Chicago—the Great Metropolis and Summer Resort

Cooled by Lake Michigan, Beautified by a Wonderful Park System, It Combines the Features of the Seashore, the Country and the City

- 1 Chicago, the second largest city in the western hemisphere and the fifth largest in the world is worth seeing.
- 2 It can be visited from June to October more favorably and with more pleasing results than at any other time of the year. Its summer days are delightfully comfortable, with sunny skies and with cool breezes from off the lake.
- 3 There is nothing pent up or enclosed about Chicago. Its wonderful parks and connecting boulevard system, and its general upbuilding on the open order principle, with a vast outlying prairie country forming its land boundaries, supplement the climatic influence of the lake and give breezes from all quarters a chance for free circulation, thus making it a favorable city in which to sojourn during any portion of the summer.
- 4 Its location at the foot of Lake Michigan makes it a seashore city in every respect, except that the waters that lapped its shores are fresh instead of salt. From its beaches and water front one looks out on the same broad expanse and water-line horizon as does one at the Atlantic Coast resorts.
- 5 Flanking the heart of the great residential district of the city are the bathing beaches of Chicago which are, and are enjoyed by all classes of people. These beaches dot the lake shore from 79th Street on the South to Clarendon Street on the North Side. Alternating with these and for fifteen miles north is also a number of free and private beaches. Fees for bathing suits and lockers are nominal, and if you go to the beach from your boarding house or hotel in your own bathing suit the lake is free.
- 6 Its park and connecting boulevard system aggregates 4,612 acres. Divided into three principle groups, in as many sections of the city, the parks and boulevards are most beautiful examples of the best art in landscape gardening, and in these parks it may be said that it is doubtful if any city in the world does more for the pleasure of the people, or if in any other city the people of all classes get more rational and continuous enjoyment out of the parks than in the case of Chicago. In addition to its principal parks are the numerous small community parks, famous the world over, and small municipal parks, playgrounds and bathing beaches.

- 7 One can make lake trips from the port of Chicago, varying from little local excursions to the parks and beaches, to an extended tour of the chain of Great Lakes. Among these trips are those of a day or more to neighboring cities, such as Milwaukee, Michigan City, St. Joseph, Benton Harbor, Holland, Saugatuck, Grand Haven and Muskegon. The steamship service for both short and extended trips is of the best, with efficient up-to-date boats.
- 8 Opportunities for automobile tours in and about Chicago are not only possible but delightful from a scenic point of view. In the city alone the tourist can travel over 150 miles of beautiful boulevards and park drives. Northward, a run of about 30 miles can be made following the lake shore through beautiful suburbs to Ft. Sheridan and the Government Naval Training Station. Westward, the motorist can run to the Fox Lake and Geneva Lake regions and to Delavan, Elgin and Aurora. Southward, for about 100 miles or more, a motor trip can be taken to Starved Rock, Deer Park and a section of the Illinois River Country, replete with a historic past and charming with its scenic attractions.
- 9 Golf courses in the parks and numerous Country and Golf Club links furnish ample facilities for the golf devotee. Yachting and motor boating are also among the sporting activities of the city. High class summer and amusement gardens are to be found in all sections of the city, and three major league baseball teams will help keep extremely busy the visitors seeking such forms of recreation.
- 10 In the city itself will be found innumerable attractions as well as the highest class hotels and restaurants of the country. Among the former may be mentioned the Art Institute, the library, the Chicago Historical Society, the Academy of Science, the University of Chicago, the Field Museum of Natural History, Hull House, Chicago's famous Stock Yards. Also the famous loop shopping district, in which will be found stores having no equal elsewhere in the world.
- 11 Send to the undersigned for a free copy of the beautiful illustrated booklet entitled, "Chicago for the Tourist," issued by the Illinois Central Railroad Company to supplement the above meager suggestions as to why Chicago is more than worth a visit during the summer months.

DEMOCRATIC FAIRNESS.

It may be that geography is not a very commendable issue in this appellate campaign, but we do know that party work and party service should count for something, when it comes to seeking a Democratic nomination at the hands of Democratic voters of this appellate district. So far as the Enterprise is concerned it cares nothing about how many years any man has served on the appellate bench from any county or any part of the district, but it does know that it is not fair from a party standpoint to give so many fat party jobs to a Republican county like Crittenden, when just as able and as good Democrats from Democratic counties, which have been bearing the brunt of party fights so long, asks for one of these important places.

Even as far back as 1895, Crittenden county was Republican in politics, and in that year gave 1,223 Republican votes to 887 Democratic votes for governor. It is one of those partisan Republican counties, that never allows a Democrat to carry it for governor. In 1911, O'Rear received 4,931 to Governor McCreary's 12,553. Take it for granted that Judge Nunn and Judge Thomas are equal in legal ability and that they are both learned in the law alike, is it right that some of the Nunn family should be retained in office from Crittenden county, a Republican county, in preference to Graves county, with thousands of fighting Democrats?

If all of the fat party jobs are to be given to a Republican county, then what encouragement has the Democrats in Democratic counties?

Graves county is certainly a loyal Democratic county, with Hon. Gus Thomas, one of her Democratic sons, the equal, if not the superior of Judge Nunn, as a man learned in the law, asking for the same office.

Now is it right and fair, to let the Republican county of Crittenden rest a while and be content with one of our United States Marshals and one United States Senator and give the Democratic nomination to Mr. Thomas for the important office of appellate judge from the big and loyal Democratic county of Graves? Mr. Thomas is the equal, if not the superior of any of his opponents as a lawyer and a Democrat and we hope the Democrats of the district will see and feel the fairness in allowing this important nomination to be given to Mr. Thomas of Graves and let the Republican county of Crittenden rest a while.

We believe the Democrats of the district, be they above or below the rivers, will see the Democratic justice of nominating Mr. Thomas. —The Hardin Enterprise. (Advt.)

MAKE GOOD IMPRESSION.

Henry Turner's Speech Monday Well Received.

Following a public speaking by candidates there is always more or less comment as to the relative effect of the various speeches. This was true this week, after the addresses by the candidates for commonwealth's attorney, and it was noticeable that Henry Turner, the splendid young Democrat and lawyer whom Ballard county offers for the position of honor and ability, received more than ordinary attention at the hands of the voters of Carlisle county.

Judging from the comments heard, the people have a well grounded idea that Mr. Turner is the logical candidate for the office of commonwealth's attorney this year, and arguments are advanced that Ballard county has not had the honor of supplying a commonwealth's attorney for many years, therefore it would not be amiss to give Turner the support of this county, all other things being equal. Another pertinent fact is advanced that Mr. Turner possesses qualifications to enable him to perform the duties of the office with satisfaction. Having held the office of police judge at Wickliffe for a number of years, which office he dignified by his adeptness in handling the many vexatious questions which, at that time, came before him for adjustment, and having had a number of years experience in the office with the best legal minds in the district, it is argued that he is peculiarly fitted for the position and evidently there is a strong sentiment in that direction. Another point in his favor is the fact that he is of strong physique, robust and rugged, and withal, his ability to successfully cope with the intricacies of the office which he seeks is above normal. There is strong evidence that the people are seriously considering all these phases of the situation and that their verdict in November will be in accordance therewith. —Carlisle Co. News. (Advt.)

Entertainments

Mrs. R. B. Johnson entertained Friday evening from 8 to 11 in complimentary to Miss Bessie Ruth Moore, of Jackson, Tenn. Erle Johnson and wife received the guests as they arrived. A musical contest was enjoyed, Miss Carrie May Reid receiving the girls prize, a piece of music, "In Virginia," and the boys prize, a tin horn, worn by Baltzer Dodds. Later in the evening progressive conversation was enjoyed, Miss Moore winning the prize, a memorandum book, and the boys, Ben Briggs, a book of poems. At the close of the games delicious brick cream, cake and mints were enjoyed. Those having the pleasure of being present were: Misses Celeste Roberts, Mildred and Irene Thompson, Camille Barrett, Carrie May Reid, Jane Binford, Annie Lee Brown, Bess Choate, Mary Tempa Burnett, Thelma Baltzer, Magalee Rice, Anna Lynn Dodds, Messrs. Henry Cowgill, Milton Hackett, Lila Choate, Ben Briggs, DREWRY Bondurant, Jim Briggs, Roy Journey, Leslie Skinner, Olney Johnson, Ben Bondurant, John Harper, Baltzer Dodds, C. B. Parish. Out of town guests: James Earle, of New Orleans, Edwin Linfield and Edward Luter, of Biloxi, Miss, and Miss Robbie Moore, of Jackson, Tenn.

One of the most delightful affairs of last week was a miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. H. G. Shaw and Miss Elsie Shaw Wednesday afternoon from 3 to 5 at the handsome home of Mrs. Vui Carpenter on Troy Avenue, complimentary to Mrs. Russell Johnson. The home was prettily decorated in sweet peas. As the guests arrived punch was served on the porch by little Misses Oma Shaw and Lois Choate. Miss Carpenter received the guests at the door and invited them into the parlor where they met Mrs. H. G. Shaw, Mrs. Russell Johnson, Miss Elsie Shaw, Mrs. Will Shaw.

From there they were invited into the dining room where the beautiful gifts for the bride were. Dainty refreshments of ice cream and cake were served to seventy-five friends at the close of the afternoon.

Constipated Cured Overnight.

TELLS DIRECTORS OF FATHER'S DEFALCATION.

At a meeting of the directors of the Cairo Building and Loan Association, the 61st association in Cairo, held last Tuesday night, Elmer E. Comings, acting secretary, told the directors of the defalcation of what may amount to $60,000, which he charges his father, the late Judge Alfred A. Comings, who died two weeks ago, embezzled. It is said that at this meeting the directors had intended to elect Elmer Comings secretary to succeed his father when the confession was made.

The defalcation is alleged to have covered a period of twelve years, the exact amount of which will not be known until about Wednesday when J. J. Boggs, of Fairfield, state building and loan examiner, completes his examination of the books. Because he did not want to see his father sent to the penitentiary is the reason given by Elmer Comings for not making known the defalcation before. The money is alleged to have been used to purchase real estate. When a borrower paid off a loan, according to his son's statement, Judge Comings would satisfy the mortgage in his office. He would take the mortgage, but would carry the mortgage as "live" in his office and when an audit was made that old mortgage would be there to cover up the money he had taken. In the same way when a stock loan was paid off he would carry it as live and so long as the pass books were not there to give the scheme away, the auditors were led to think everything was all right.

It is said that the shortage amounted to $10,000 when Elmer Comings first learned of it. The amount of the shortage grew so large that seven years ago Mr. Comings was compelled to give up his job on the road and move to Cairo from St. Louis so he could give his entire time and attention to the work. Each year following the discovery of defalcation it was necessary to raise money to pay the interest on the false loans. This money was obtained in the same way. The original embezzlement may have been increased, but as the whole amount of the shortage grew so did the annual amount of interest until last year it is said it was necessary to "appropriate" not less than $7,000 to pay the "pyramided" interest on the false loans.

THE PROPER COURSE

Information of Priceless Value to Every Hickman Citizen.

How to act in an emergency is knowledge of inestimable worth, and this is particularly true of the diseases and ills of the human body. If you suffer with kidney trouble, backache, urinary disorders, or any form of kidney trouble, the advice contained in the following statement should add a valuable asset to your store of knowledge. What could be more convincing proof of the efficiency of Doan's Kidney Pills than the statement of a Hickman citizen who used them and who publicly tells of the benefit derived?

Mrs. R. Graves, Hickman, says: "I still use Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Helm & Ellison's Drug Store, when a cold affects my kidneys and they cure me. You may continue publishing the endorsement I have given before."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills the same that Mrs. Graves recommends. Foster-McMillan Co., props., Buffalo, N. Y. (Advt.)

A county superintendent in a neighboring county asked every teacher at the county institute who took their county or local paper to hold up their hands and only six responded. The superintendent expressed his surprise and said: "You don't spend a dollar a year with those papers, yet you expect them to print, free of charge, notices of all institutes, insert long programs, expect them to advertise you, thus assisting you to climb the ladder to better positions and better salaries without a cent in return."

A regular morning operation of the bowels puts you in fine shape for the day's work. If you miss it you feel uncomfortable and can not put vim into your movements. For all bowel irregularities BERTINE is the remedy. It purifies, strengthens and regulates. Price 50c. Sold by Hickman Drug Co. (Advt.)

News Snapshots Of the Week

Zeppelin attacks on London and an aeroplane raid on Karlsruhe, Germany, marked features of the war this week. Military operations comprised a severe setback for Russia and a sudden halt of Italy before elaborate system of concrete trenches. The Danubian-Hell attackers reported considerable progress. Because of criticism of his pro-German propaganda here Dr. Dernburg, alleged Kaiser's official spokesman, received safe conduct to Germany. Colonel E. M. House, President Wilson's personal friend, Fullam, superintendent of the academy, used as a witness in defense of his administration. Secretary of War Garrison attended commencement of West Point cadets. Nona McAdoo, daughter of treasury secretary, returned from nursing soldiers. Governor Slaton, Georgia, considered clemency plea of Leo Frank.

J. O. West gives promise of developing into a first class comedy for Rutherford, Tenn., to black face comedian. He made attend the bedside of her mother, his debut Tuesday evening at the Crystal, supported by other vaudeville artists.

Mrs. J. W. Jennings left yesterday for Union City, Miss. Josephine Watts, of Union City, is visiting Miss Mary Tampa Bennett.

NEGRO KILLED AT CAYCE. GROUND TO SAUSAGE.

Fragments of the body of a negro were found scattered along the Mobile & Ohio railroad at Cayce Friday morning. It is presumed he fell from a passing train, and that other passing trains ground the body into sausage. County Coroner H. C. Barrett, of Hickman, was called to the scene. The victim's head he picked up in four pieces and the body was proportionately mangled. The remains were buried on the railroad right-of-way.

An identification card was found among the clothing. The negro's name was Charlie Clark, his home at New Orleans. His wife called up Mr. Barrett from New Orleans and asked for the dead negro's personal effects, which consisted of a bunch of keys, two watch chains, 55 cents and a "conjure" sheet from a dream book.

Miss Mildred Thompson entertained delightfully Tuesday evening from 8 to 11 in special compliment to Messrs. Edward Luter and Edwin Linfield, of Biloxi, Miss. As the guests arrived Miss Irene Thompson served them fruit punch. As a diversion the guests enjoyed hearts and progressive conversation. The home was prettily decorated in magnolias and ferns. At the close of the evening cream and cake were served. Those present were: Misses Thelma Baltzer, Jane Binford, Camille Barrett, Annie Lee Brown, Anna Lynn Dodds, Celeste Roberts, Ethel Walker, Bess Choate, Messrs. Ben Briggs, Baltzer Dodds, Henry Cowgill, Ben Boudurant, Milton Hackett, Lila Choate, Jim Briggs, Leslie Skinner, Roy Jurney. Out of town guests, Miss Josephine Watts, of Union City, and Miss Bessie Ruth Moore, of Jackson, Tenn.

CHURCH AND CHOIR

CHURCH OF CHRIST NOTES.

In spite of the uncommon warm morning we had a good attendance at the Bible school and also at church. The Loyal Mens class will take up as a study on next Sunday morning "The New Testament church." This is a book of decided importance and all anticipate a splendid time in the work. Come and join us in it.

The series of sermons for the morning are being well received and you will enjoy spending the morning hour with us. Won't you come? Better hear Gods call through the voice of the minister than hear it later in another and never to be forgotten way. Why absent yourself from the house of God until death or great trouble drives you to it?

The subject for the lecture at the Crystal on next Sunday night will be the answer to the question "Is There Any Contradiction Between the Bible and Modern Science?" This will be the last of the regular lectures for some time at least until the weather moderates. The lecture on next Sunday night will deal with the Gyroscope and Violet ray, two of the most modern efforts in the world of science, and will give some of the facts as presented by Dr. Wood in his marvelous lecture at Union City during chautauqua last week. Come out and get in touch with the worlds life and thought.

Where shall we go to find a cool place is a common question now, especially when the heat is anything like it was on last Sunday afternoon and evening. During the evening we asked the audience at the Crystal, and they were unanimous in saying that they were in the most comfortable place they had found during the day. The place is perfectly comfortable on the warmest evening so you will find a nice cool place to spend the evening and at the same time enjoy the evening address.

After next Sunday, all through the months of July and August, the address for both morning and evening, will be acceptably brief. Good, I hear some say. Yes, you all want brief sermons. Brief, yes, and then a little more brief, but want extremely long promises stretched almost to the breaking point—for the hereafter. Do you really think you are entitled to them in the manner in which you treat God and his work now?

Mrs. L. A. Stone entertained in honor of her sister, Mrs. G. H. Ralston, Tuesday evening from 8 to 11 at two tables of 500. At the close of the games cream and cake were served. Those present were: Mesdames Mollie Prather, L. C. Moss, W. B. Amberg, F. S. Moore and J. T. Stephens.

M. T. Riley and wife went to Paducah Saturday. Mr. Riley returned Sunday, but his wife will visit relatives there for several days.

A RECAPITULATION Y. M. B. LEAGUE.

At the last meeting of the Young Men's Business League this organization side-tracked other routine business long enough to take a retrospective—a recapitulation—of what has been accomplished by its efforts. This summing up was for and among the members—the faithful few, who put their time and money in to an effort to help the whole town—but the Courier doesn't deem it out of place to make public some of the things accomplished by this organization.

One item in particular is the holding up of an advance in coal rates into Hickman. It was to have become effective last fall—an advance from $1.20 to $1.50 per ton. This would have been put right over by the railroad had it not been for the fact that the League took the matter up with the Interstate Commerce Commission. It was necessary to send a representative to New Orleans and Montgomery, Ala., but they succeeded in getting a hearing and an order from the court enjoining temporarily the advance. This saved the people of Hickman—rich and poor—a total of more than $5,000—and the rate has not yet been advanced.

The truck project is another matter to which the league is given credit. Although, still in the experimental stage, enough has been learned in the try-out to know that it will ultimately become a contributing factor to the future commercial prosperity of Hickman. Our farmers were brought together on this subject. The League sent a delegation to Humboldt, the great strawberry patch of Tennessee and gave them a practical demonstration of the berry business. A speaking campaign followed and our farmers learned the scientific end of trucking. They have taken hold of the matter and find it profitable; a source from which money will pour in ahead of all other farm crops. Next year our crops will be earlier. Planting late has cost us considerable—but we got the experience. Above all, we find that truck grown here is both fine in quality and quantity. A big drive will be made on strawberries next year.

The city fathers are now busy figuring on the purchase of a fire engine for Hickman. We were on the verge of having our insurance rates boosted sky-high, and many companies have already pulled out—got out before they knew we anticipated action along this line. The Business League took hold of the fire insurance situation last fall and have been hammering on it ever since. The council agreed with them that something must be done. A good, modern auto fire truck will solve the problem; will save us as much each year as the truck will cost.

Then came the good roads agitation. At first glance, it might seem that this matter "died a-borning." But it did not. Gravel roads are coming. Several miles will be built this year—all the result of the agitation given the subject in the spring. Once started, there will be no end to gravel highways. It's no longer a luxury but a necessity.

About one year ago, through the efforts of the League, one of the biggest and most successful of 4th of July celebrations ever witnessed here, was pulled off.

We have just had another 5-day Redpath Chautauqua—an educational and entertainment affair that is worth twice its cost to any community. The thing fell flat last year—and prospects for its return in 1915 were very poor. The advance agent came to town and tried to find some organization under whose auspices the chautauqua could be held. He was told there were none, except one or two ladies' clubs. His informant told him the Business League was "dead; didn't amount to anything—non est, etc." To make a long story short, the Redpath people say Hickman has a live commercial organization, and they are coming back next year—sure shot.

And yet, we haven't created enough enthusiasm to install a "white way" in Hickman, but we have the next thing to it—a number of arches spanning Clinton street, with hundreds of lights, that illuminate the thoroughfare in a most pleasing and satisfactory way.

The Turk-Wilson Wholesale Grocery Co., one of the strong, successful wholesale concerns of Kentucky, were induced through the efforts of the League to locate a branch in Hickman. The benefits derived from such an establishment are obvious.

These are things accomplished by the League, with the assistance of their friends and public-spirited citizens.

The League hopes to be able to announce soon a reduction in commodity freight rates. Railroad representatives were here Tuesday to confer with the League on this matter. They are after rates that will put us on a competitive basis with other towns along the river. Present indications are that the League will win without taking the matter before the Interstate Commerce Commission. To do so means a saving of hundreds of dollars a year to our jobbers, in

This recapitulation merely goes to show what can be accomplished through a united effort, even though in a small way. Hardly a single item mentioned above could have been put over by any individual, but all are of interest directly or indirectly to the citizens of our town and community. A more forceful argument for support and larger membership of the Young Men's Business League cannot be advanced. Every active, progressive business man in Hickman should affiliate with this League. If you are interested in Hickman, why don't you join? They offer a perpetual invitation to help with work of civic pride and progress. The best way to endorse the League's work is to join them.

Economy Hints

A penny saved is a penny earned.—Benjamin Franklin.

WHEN the velvet frock has reached its very last stage and may no longer be steamed or draped it may still serve a useful purpose in cover such pillows. Many persons think that velvet for house decorative purposes is not at its best until it is more than half worn, and instead of paying large prices for "antique" pieces of the fabric or the extra sums asked for the velvet which has been made "old" by the artifices of commerce the housewife with an eye to artistry in home decoration may use up her old velvet frocks to advantage.

For comfort pillows, small table covers, desk pads, table mats or to go under lamps or portfolio covers the old velvet is perfectly satisfactory. Even when only comparatively small pieces are good enough to use they may be sewed together in strips and the seams covered with narrow gold braid or tiny bands of satin. While the dark colored velvets, wine dark blue, dark green, dark violet, etc., are usually considered more attractive for house fittings, black velvet is at the moment quite as desirable. The present passion for the accumulation of the black note in house furnishing makes the black velvet couch cushions and table mat entirely suitable.

Naturally the black material cannot be used in very large pieces without creating a too somber effect, but when made up with gold braid and fringed or striped with bands of broadened silk it makes extremely attractive looking covers. Another way of using the velvet to create rich effects in pillow coverings or for the other purposes mentioned is to make it the background of the cover, against which are applied small bright colored designs cut from broadened or figured satin or velvet.

Foot rest pillows may also be made of velvet. They generally have an oblong of tapestry, a third smaller, in the center, and their length corresponds with the chair or divan before which they are placed. One would suppose in the square or oblong pillows that the seams would be in the conventional places only, but very charming ones are made where the seams cross the face of the pillow. This must be done in an artistic manner, the seams taking irregular directions and with some sense of design.

FOR "ROOM DWELLERS."

How to Make a Tin Brass Box Look Artistic.

We live in an age of condensation, box couches, folding furniture and corner kitchenettes, so any device that has its twofold purpose and is really should be interesting.

One woman who lives and sleeps in the same room, yet manages to convey the impression to strangers that there is a whole suite at her command, has a box for cakes and crackers that is so charming that other feminine "room dwellers" will be grateful to her for passing it on. It is really merely the common or kitchen variety of covered tin box that can be bought in the house furnishing department of most big shops or even in the ten cent stores if you get there on your lucky day.

This special tin box has been glorified. It is covered with flowered cretonne to match her charming draperies and chair covers. The cretonne is put on snugly, for a single wrinkle is fatal, and kept in place with a good paste. The base of both box and lid, the edge of the box that the lid fits over, the hinges and the little staple-like clasp that keep the lid in place are left free from the cretonne and gilded.

The box looks merely an ornament when in its place on a flower and look littered table, but the initiated know better. It is big enough to hold crackers, pretzels, little cakes, even part of a loaf cake, and keep them fresh and safe from mouse marauders. And it is a most comforting canned pantry on one of those nights (which seem to come to most people sometimes) when sleep refuses to come and hunger possesses one.

Smaller boxes of the same sort are also for sale at a trifling cost. These, covered in the same way, make pretty receptacles for candied oranges or ginger or buns or other delicacies.

How to Use Salt For an Injury to the Eye.

Salt is a violent irritant to raw surface, and yet, when used in the right proportion, salt water is less irritating to an injured eye than plain water. It has been the practice to bathe an eye that has been injured by a bit of lime or mortar with a weak solution of vinegar, and to use a bath of diluted soap-suds for an injury caused by acids.

This is done with the idea that the acid of the vinegar will neutralize the alkali of the lime or the alkali of the soap-suds neutralizes the acid. A far better form of treatment is to put the patient on his back and pour plenty of lukewarm water between the well opened lids as quickly as possible.

Curiously enough, this lukewarm water bath is made much less irritating by the addition of a little salt. The exact proportion for this is an even teaspoonful of salt to a quart of water.

NEW MILLINERY MODES

OUTLINE OF HATS FOLLOWS
OUTLINES OF SKIRTS.

Smart Toques of Last Season Are No Longer Seen—Latest Ideas Seen in Paris Are in the Smartest of Styles.

Everyone has been wondering what kind of hats or toques we are going to wear with the new dresses with the full skirts which measure from six to eight yards round the hem and the picturesque costumes which recall the styles of olden times, writes Idalla de Villers in the Boston Globe.

It was of course evident that the ultra-smart toques of last season would be quite out of place in these altered circumstances. The outline of last summer, and indeed of last au-turn too, was distinctly saucy. The underdresses were so short, and narrow and the tunics so long and wide.

With these costumes velvet forage caps, and high toques which looked rather like inverted jam pots, looked quite the right thing. We have to look for a change of outline where our hats are concerned since the outline of our skirts has been changed so completely.

Some of the new millinery models are very charming. I visited Caroline Reboux' beautiful show-rooms in the Rue de la Paix and I was delighted with the models exhibited there. Reboux has always been noted for her elegant styles. She has never gone in for eccentricities, or toques which look like the hennas worn by priests, only that they are very low. These quaint models are trimmed with very long pheasant or vulture feathers which stick out at the back in an aggressive way. When these toques are correctly worn, pressed down over the hair, they are immensely smart; they look particularly well with the new short, full skirts and sack coats.

The Reboux toque sketched was composed of raven's wing-blue velvet and trimmed with a trail of mixed flowers. Some of the blossoms were in petunia and dull blue silk; others were in oxidized silver and gold gauze.

A little later on we shall find floating ribbons in velvet and satin applied to Tuscan and Lagoon hats. Many of the new sailor shapes are finished off with similar ribbons, for merely sensational fashions. A "Reboux hat" has always a cachet of its own. It is distinctly Parisian in outline as well as detail. Many of the models which I saw were intended for the Riviera season. They were expressed in black velvet, raven's wing-blue faille, satin straw in many rich colors and in many other materials.

The small hat reigns supreme chez Reboux; the small hat in preference to the smart toque. One model, composed of ivory white faille, was of an old-world shape; the brim was flat and it dipped at the front and back. It was not a large hat and the soft silk crown was circled by a wreath of dull pink carnations and maiden-hair fern. Here and there some feathery grasses, quite black, gave a note of somber color.

TO PRESERVE ROSE LEAVES

Method That Will Result in the Almost Perfect Preservation of Their Fragrance.

Separate the petals and rub them in an equal weight of common salt. The water from the rose leaves is thus absorbed and the pasty, briny mass thus formed may be kept indefinitely with almost perfect preservation of the fragrance.

Sweet sachet bags are made of thin material, such as figured organdie, and filled with the dried leaves of rose geranium, lemon verbena, mignonette and sweetbrier. If the material is not closely woven it is better to put the dried leaves in bags of cheesecloth or burlap before putting on the outer cover. A linen cover is also pretty.

Sweet-smelling rose buds may be made from rose petals. Grind the rose petals in the meat chopper. Put the juice and pulp into a clean kettle and boil until a thick mass. An iron kettle is best to use, in order that the buds may turn black. When cool, roll little lumps of the pulp into round or oval shapes, sticking a pin through each one while it is soft, thereby providing a hole for threading. To dry, stand the pins upright with their points in a cardboard box.

ANOTHER RISE COMING. 40 FEET PREDICTED.

According to local river men, another rise is coming down the Mississippi river, the crest of which is expected at Hickman Tuesday. Two weeks ago the Cairo gauge reached a maximum of 49.9 feet, and fully as much or more is anticipated on the coming rise. This will again cover many farms in front of the levees.

Congressman Thomas will introduce a bill at the next Congress for the purchase of Mammoth Cave by the Government as a national park for $1,000,000.

More than 20 Sunday bathers were drowned Sunday in the East. From now on the water will claim many victims.

Chesapeake &amp; Ohio trains will all be "dry" after June 30, according to announcement made Monday.

Heart to Heart Talks

By CHARLES N. LURIE

KNOWING HUMAN NATURE.

Says a current joke: "How is it, Colonel?" asked the hopeful young bunko steerer, addressing the hoary bearded master of the craft, "that you have always been so successful in picking out juicy suckers and never have to waste time on unprofitable subjects?"

"I simply wait until I hear a man say that he is a pretty good judge of human nature," replied the veteran, "and then I know he is just what I am looking for."

The "easy mark," in other words, is the man who thinks that he cannot be fooled. He is the "wise guy," the fellow who "knows it all." Separating him from his money is child's play, according to the veteran sharper.

Like so many other generalizations, this one is apt to lead to a wrong conclusion. Because so many men who think they are well acquainted with human nature, who believe they can plot all its curves and twists all its angles, fall easy prey to the human vulture. It does not follow that the person who does not study mankind at all is harder to "do."

There is a happy medium. Do not think that you know all or even touch, that is to be learned about your fellow men. But do not, on the other hand, go about the world with your eyes half closed, in trusting innocence. Each of these two kinds of foolishness is apt to fix its eyes on something that is far ahead and trip over the stone that lies directly in its path.

But—Probably the more foolish of the two sorts of men is the one who flatters himself that he knows human nature thoroughly. So infinitely complex are the workings of the human mind and so subject to variation is the human heart that no one in the course of an ordinary life can hope to get anything but a glimpse into small portions of them.

The greatest philosophers have confessed their inability to see more. "How poor, how rich, how object, how august, how confidante, how wonder full is man! How passing wonder the who made him such!" says the poet Young in his "Night Thoughts."

And—How foolish the man and how open to self deceit and to confusion by another who thinks that he has mastered this subject!

CAREFUL IN LOCATING BEES

Not Safe to Fasten Horses or Cow in Place Where Little Insects Pass for Water Supply.

A beekeeper not long since obtained a valuable cow in line between a large apiary and a stream of water where the bees flew in great numbers for water. At night when she went for the cow she found that the bees had stung the cow to death.

It is never safe to fasten a horse or cow where bees would pass in force, as the horse or cow might switch its tail as a bee went by and provoke it to use its sting, when all the bees would unite in the attack, and as the animal could not flee from the attacking party, it would almost surely be stung fatally. This fact must always be remembered in locating an apiary near a street or road.

In case an animal is severely stung, the best remedy is to cover the suffering brute with blankets wet in cold water. If a person or animal is attacked, it is well to hasten into a barn or other building as the insects will often hesitate to follow into the building, especially if it is somewhat dark.

SHOULD DEMAND CLEAN CARS

Up to the Shipper to Be on the Safe Side—Hog Cholera Spread by Railroad Trains.

It is up to the shipper to be on the safe side and use only clean cars for shipping hogs, according to Dr. H. A. Beach of the Wisconsin college of agriculture.

Unsanitary stock cars are responsible for spreading much hog cholera. Cases are on record where cholera has been brought into a community simply by cars carrying cholera infected hogs passing through on the railroad.

Causes of Infertility.

Over-feeding, especially of corn, and lack of exercise for the breeders, are perhaps the most common causes of infertility. This we have noticed especially with regard to birds that are shown a great deal, being confined to the show crops for weeks, fed highly on whole grains, with insufficient green feed and bulky matter.

POPULAR TEACHER WEDS MISSOURI CHOIR LEADER.

Miss Anna Ballow, a popular teacher in the Hickman public schools, surprised her many friends here when she was united in marriage last Sunday morning at 9:30 to W. T. Jones, of Bloomfield, Mo., the wedding occurring at the home of the bride's father, in the Montgomery school district. Rev. C. S. Austin, of Henry, Tenn., was the officiating minister. Owing to a recent bereavement in the family, the wedding was celebrated in a very quiet way.

Miss Anna, who has taught in our public schools for some time, is a very popular and highly esteemed young lady. She is a daughter of Jno. W. Ballow, born and reared in this immediate vicinity, where she has many, many staunch and admiring friends. Her work in the public schools has been exceptionally satisfactory and she has endeared herself to both pupils and patrons. At the last election of teachers, she was engaged again for the coming school term, which, we understand, she will teach.

Mr. Jones, the fortunate groom, is a native Missourian. His occupation is that of singer and choir leader. He also operates a farm. He is spoken of in the highest and most complimentary terms.

Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Caruthers were host and hostess to an enjoyable little affair Thursday in the way of a picnic, held in the shady woods across the river on the Missouri side, and given in honor of their visitor, Mrs. Nash, of Arkansas, a sister of Mrs. Caruthers. An elegant repast was enjoyed at noon, followed by amusements in the way of games, target practice, etc. Before returning home, the party—composed of about fifty—enjoyed a boat ride up the river. When the crowd landed back on the Kentucky side, three cheers were given Mr. and Mrs. Caruthers by way of appreciation, and all had a splendid time.

The C. L. S. Club met Monday night with Miss Blanch Blufford. Nine members were present and one visitor, Miss Sarah Wynn McConnell, who enjoyed very much the program. Reading by Miss Kate Hackett, subject, "The Origin, Aim and Purpose of the Chautauqua Movement as Adapted to our Chautauqua Literary and Social Club." Music by Miss Ruby Fleming. At the closing hour delightful refreshments were served. Next meeting will be with Miss Effie Bruer.

COOKS MUCH RICE AT ONCE

Housekeeper Recommends Her Way as Time Saving and Making for Economy.

In winter, owing to the low temperature, I cook a large supply of rice at one time, as much as four cupfuls. The wholesale cooking saves fuel and enables me to have a constant supply on hand, which I use in the following way:

Some I use as a side dish with meat instead of potatoes, for I find it is cheaper and more nourishing, pound for pound, being in addition much easier to prepare. While the rice is still hot, I line a ring mold with about one cupful of oil, and set away to shape and cool. At the same time, I set aside in a small pan enough for a small pudding on the following day and another portion I beat with eggs and at once shape as rice cakes for breakfast. Sometimes I save a portion to be used with croquettes. I serve the ring of rice with leftovers of any kind of meat, heated with a warm, rich gravy, filled into the center of the ring, which makes a substantial second meal. Sometimes I combine it with a cheese sauce.—Exchange.

SOUP LIKED BY JAPANESE

Has Fish as Foundation, but the Other Ingredients Are Many and Varied.

Procure a head of salmon or bass and place in a saucepan with a sliced carrot, a sliced onion, two branches of celery, two branches of parsley, one bay leaf, a sprig of thyme and a clove. Moisten with three quarts of water. Season with two teaspoonfuls of salt, half a teaspoonful of pepper, one teaspoonful of curry powder and gently boil one and a half hours. Strain the soup through a cheesecloth into another saucepan, add three ounces of raw rice and gently boil 15 minutes. Finely chop one branch of parsley and one small onion. Add to the soup, lightly mix and boil five minutes longer. Remove the skin and bone from a pound of fresh halibut, then cut in half-inch square pieces, add to soup and simmer 15 minutes. Dilute an egg yolk in half a cupful of cream and the juice of half a lemon. Add to soup, carefully mix with wooden spoon when cooking two minutes, but do not allow to boil.

In Making Salad.

If you take the heart of lettuce or the romaine lettuce cut it into halves if it is small and quarter if it is large. Wash the leaves well and dry with a cloth. There are twenty or more attractive salads, according to the way you combine fruits or vegetables.

Though there are not the same number of dressings, there are a number made by adding different ingredients to the ordinary dressings. The best known and most popular of these are French dressing, mayonnaise, thousand island and Roquefort cheese. The simplest of these salads is the hearts of lettuce with thousand island dressing, or the Roquefort cheese dressing. The Romaine salad is good either with the French dressing or with the Roquefort cheese dressing.

Guinea Fowl Breasts Bearnaise.

Take the breasts from the bones and remove the skin of small guinea fowls, dust with salt and pepper and place in a buttered pan; cover with a buttered paper and bake for 15 minutes. Remove the paper, pour over them a little melted butter, broil cooking until they are slightly browned. Place each one on a piece of toast, cover with a very thin slice of boiled ham, pour over each a spoonful of bearnaise sauce and garnish the dish with artichoke fonds and small sweet red peppers, the fonds filled with asparagus tips and the peppers filled with chopped mushrooms.

Cream Puffs.

They are very nice and not very expensive. One cupful boiling water, butter size of egg. Melt in water. While boiling stir in one cupful sifted flour, stir thoroughly. When cool stir in two eggs, one at a time unbeaten, and a pinch of soda size of pea. Beat well and drop in tin far enough apart so they will not touch while baking. Bake in very hot oven. Makes nine puffs. Filling: One cupful milk, one egg, one teaspoonful flour or cornstarch, and sugar to taste. Flavor with vanilla.

Beans Spanish.

Soak overnight two cupfuls of pink beans, then boil them until tender. Boil three sweet red peppers and put them through a sieve. Fry three slices of bacon until brown, then add the pepper pulp and one green pepper that has been minced fine and one shredded onion. Then put in the beans, adding plenty of juice, a little salt and some grated cheese. Cook together thoroughly.

Poached Eggs.

Put some water in saucepan to boil, add a pinch of salt and a little vinegar; let it boil very hard. Break eggs on to a plate one at a time and drop them into the boiling water exactly where it bubbles. Take eggs out with a skimmer and trim them nicely, although there should be no trimming necessary if properly done. Place each egg on a piece of toast and serve while hot.

Dry-Cured Hams.

For one hundred pounds of meat take four pounds of fine salt, four ounces of saltpeter and one pound of brown sugar; mix well, and rub the hams with the mixture every other day until all is absorbed.

SHAMPOO FOR SMALL CHILD

Proper Materials and Efficient Method Are the Vital Points to Be Considered.

Many an overburdened mother has gladly turned over the task of shampooing the youngsters to the elder sister, who really deserves the title of the family beauty doctor. Not only is this a relief to the mother, but it is an excellent thing for the children, as few mothers have either the knowledge or the time properly to shampoo two or three bopping little heads. Great harm is done the hair by slovenly or too strenuous shampooing. In the one case, harsh alkalis or uncleanly soaps remain in the hair, and in the other too drastic substances are employed for cleansing the hair of oil and dirt.

The beauty doctor takes the rebellious little patient to the bathroom, throws a combing cape of Turkish toweling over the bare shoulders, and folds another small Turkish towel on the edge of the stationary washstand for the patient to rest her chin on.

In a bowl close at hand she has ready the yolk of one egg, beaten thoroughly, with one pint of warm rain water and an ounce of rosemary spirits. The egg will remove dandruff and cut the excessive oil in the hair. Rosemary leaves behind a pleasant perfume. Dipping both hands into the shampoo mixture, she works it into the scalp, rubbing thoroughly with the finger tips. When the scalp is saturated and the dandruff is loosened, she has the patient rest her chin on the folded towel, and the rinsing begins. The hair is not washed its full length, but the shampoo as it is washed down, cleanses the hair.

A rubber tube, which can be adjusted to any pipe and which has a perforated spray nozzle, is useful for rinsing, and warm, not hot nor cold, water should be used. The right hand directs the flow of the water, and the left is held at the base of the brain for on the forehead to prevent the water from running down the back or into the eyes.

Soft, warm towels are used for patting the hair dry. It should never be rubbed violently. Then it is fanned. Drying in the sun makes the hair lighter in tint, but this often induces headache.

The beauty doctor understands scalp massage, and knows that the more rotary movement of the finger tips over the scalp is not sufficient, but the scalp must be loosened from the skull, because if the scalp fits too tightly to the skull the hair cannot grow.

IN WHITE AND GREEN

This Charming Toilette of White Taffetas Glace Has a Loosely-Fitting Skirt With an Applied Flounce of Graceful Linea Forming a Deep Point in Front—The Slims Corsage Has a Wide Medici Collar of Lace—Two Large Medallions Embroidered in Shades of Green Decorate the Waist, Giving a Delightful Touch of Color Which is Repeated on the Hat.

Net for Little Girls.

Some lovely afternoon frocks for little girls are made of white wash net. The fabric is simple, yet is light and delicate enough to have a certain "party" air loved by children. One frock prettily developed in white net is made with a three-flounced skirt, a single rose fastened on each flounce. The bodice is made of a ruffle, like those on the skirts, gathered in about the waist line to form a full little peplum, and the sleeves, too, are narrow ruffles of net. It is all very simple but very pretty.

With banners and pennants flying, announcing they were boosters for the Paducah-Fulton-Memphis highway, and with motor-cars and good roads legends, forty automobiles moved out of Fulton Tuesday morning across the state line bridge and headed for Memphis. All points along the proposed route were visited and everybody is enthusiastic. There is little doubt but this project will be consummated. Hickman should have been represented, as our people will also be benefitted by this highway.

Mrs. Ida DeBow left last week for Louisville to visit her son, A. E. DeBow, and then to Virginia to spend the summer with relatives.

Shades of Green Decorate the Waist, Giving a Delightful Touch of Color Which is Repeated on the Hat.

Some lovely afternoon frocks for little girls are made of white wash net. The fabric is simple, yet is light and delicate enough to have a certain "party" air loved by children. One frock prettily developed in white net is made with a three-flounced skirt, a single rose fastened on each flounce. The bodice is made of a ruffle, like those on the skirts, gathered in about the waist line to form a full little peplum, and the sleeves, too, are narrow ruffles of net. It is all very simple but very pretty.
